

Pilot Profile – Discord

Clicking on Discord will open an invitation for you to join the Company's Discord. While not mandatory, all Pilots are strongly encouraged to join. The Pilot Community there is very active and all are welcome – as active participants or 'lurkers'. It's the best and fastest way to keep with the Company's operations.

How do I join the Walker Air Transport Discord?

Log into CrewOps and click on your name in the top right > select "Discord" at the bottom.

You will be directed to your Profile Settings > Discord page.

You'll see a number of topics listed here. We strongly recommend reviewing all of them.

Discord Channels

#notams is where we push update notifications about Airline Operations to our Pilots. We pride ourselves on not bothering our Pilots with unnecessary communication.

#info provides important details about the Airline, including how to obtain the @Licensed Pilot or @Student Pilot role.

#roles provides an opportunity for our Pilots to join special channels -- like Online ATC networks and other games.

#support is only to be used for simple and quick issues related to the VA platform. If you need help with a simulator or aircraft, use its specific channel.

NOTE: Depending on the nature or complexity of your issue, you may be required to open a ticket in CrewOps

Once again, welcome aboard -- and happy flying!

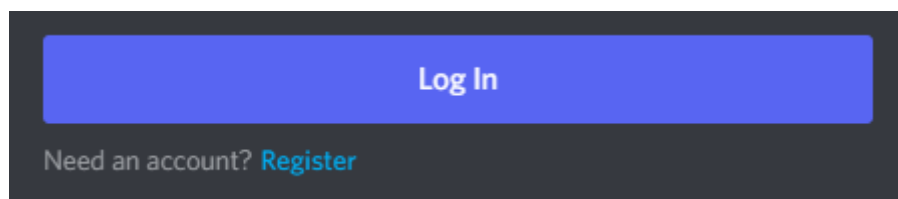

Additionally, your browser will redirect to your Profile > Discord settings and you should have a green button and the ability to unlink your discord. If you unlink discord, you will be removed from the Discord server.
